Jasper Strehlow studied at the Viadrina University in Frankfurt (Oder) and at the Free University of Berlin, specialising in commercial law. He completed his legal clerkship in the district of the Kammergericht Berlin. Jasper Strehlow was admitted to the bar in October 2010 and, in 2014, he became a specialist lawyer for insurance law, in 2025 he became a specialist lawyer for construction and architectural law.

Before joining Leinemann Partner in May 2019, Jasper Strehlow worked for a medium-sized law firm and thereafter for an international company. Jasper Strehlow focuses on construction and architectural law, in particular contract drafting and architects' fee and liability law. Jasper Strehlow assists his clients (including, among others, utilities contracting entities, investors, designers and construction companies) in every phase of a construction project and also supports them in all insurance law issues relating to construction.
