Marten Redderberg is a lawyer specialising in construction and architectural law. He studied at the University of Greifswald and completed his first state examination with a focus on criminology. During his legal clerkship at the Higher Regional Court of Dresden, he gained practical experience in an international commercial law firm and at the Federal Foreign Office before successfully passing his second state examination.

Before working as a lawyer, Marten Redderberg spent a year as a research assistant at the University of Greifswald, where he led colloquia on prison law, juvenile criminal law and general criminal law. He was also responsible for the second assessment of seminar papers in the field of criminology.

Marten Redderberg joined the Leinemann Partner Rechtsanwälte team in Berlin at the beginning of 2025. Marten Redderberg advises and represents clients in all matters of private construction law. He has experience in drafting contracts and resolving disputes in and out of court.
