E-Mail: sebastian.jakobi@leinemann-partner.de • Tel.: 030 - 20 64 19 - 0

Sebastian Jakobi studied law at the Free University of Berlin. He completed his legal traineeship in the district of the Kammergericht Berlin, including stages at the Scientific Service of the German Bundestag and the legal department of a recycling company operating throughout Europe.

Sebastian Jakobi was admitted to the bar in 2017 and has been a specialist lawyer for construction and architectural law since 2020. He has been working at the Berlin office of Leinemann Partner Rechtsanwälte since March 2023.

Sebastian Jakobi focuses on advising and representing project developers, clients and companies in the construction industry as well as architectural and engineering firms in all aspects of contract drafting and construction supervision. In addition, his legal practice also focuses on court representation and litigation in connection with the assertion and defence of claims arising from construction and real estate law disputes. In addition, he supports condominium owners' associations in carrying out construction measures and in enforcing defect claims relating to the common property. Sebastian Jakobi advises clients confidently in German and English.

Sebastian Jakobi is a member of the Berlin Bar Association, the DAV and the ARGE-Baurecht in the DAV. In addition to his work as a lawyer, he is also involved in the teaching of trainee lawyers as part of the working groups for the legal traineeship for the Kammergericht. Sebastian Jakobi is also a member of the Specialist Lawyers' Committee for Construction and Architects' Law at the Berlin Bar Association.

In 2026 the Handelsblatt has recognized Sebastian Jakobi as one of the "Ones to watch" in construction law.
